Aqipa customers have several options to contact us. The first point of contact for questions regarding your order is our customer service department. For assistance in your national language, simply reach out to our team by email. If you are not sure who your contact person is, please contact us here --> Contact now

If you need to make special promotions or MDF arrangements, your sales contact is your first point of address. If you are not sure who your contact person is, please contact our sales team here --> Contact sales
