Stock and pricing

David Lackner - 2022-07-06 - Working with Aqipa - Existing customers

You can view current stock levels and your individual net prices online when logged in to your account.

When logged out, you will see stock levels and product RRP only.

You can also contact your sales representative for price information.